

Could you be the Volunteer Coordinator for Wheat Growing* in Ruskin Park?

The Wheat Growing Project Aims

- To raise awareness and knowledge of the crop-growing and processing cycle of cherished heritage organic wheats.
- To be part of the local network of other urban food growers
- To encourage engagement around sustainable agriculture, harvest and food production
- To diversify the activities and attractions of Ruskin Park.

Annual Activities

- Co-ordinating the practical tasks for the project volunteers, including: preparing the ground, sowing, maintaining, harvesting, transporting for milling
- Contributing to the planning of a harvest festival, led by the FoRP events team
- Communicating regularly with schools
- Identifying resources needed, working with others to secure funding
- Leading a volunteer group

The Person/Persons

- Passionate about growing crops with traditional methods, with some relevant knowledge or willingness to learn
- Enjoys teamwork and networking with traditional food producers, volunteers, partners and other stakeholders
- Good organiser
- Practical, hands on
- Able to give a few hours a month of their time

What Would You Gain?

- Satisfaction of running a valued green community project
- Being part of a diverse team of friends
- Support from FoRP
- New skills and knowledge

In partnership with Brockwell Bake Association and the Friends of Windmill Gardens

For more information, please contact....